WHAT TO THINK ABOUT MACHINES THAT THINK: TODAY'S LEADING THINKERS ON THE AGE OF MACHINE INTELLIGENCE

As the world becomes ever more dominated by technology, John Brockman's latest addition to the acclaimed and bestselling "Edge Question Series" asks more than 175 leading scientists, philosophers, and artists: What do you think about machines that think?The development of artificial intelligence has been a source of fascination and anxiety ever since Alan Turing formalized the concept in 1950. Today,...

Reader's Opinions

Lots of people are thinking about Artificial Intelligence (AI). Lots of people are calling it different names: PseudoIntelligence, "Big Data", Algorithms, Artificial Learning, but it is all the same thing...

Aside from the occasional person who really knows what (s)he's talking about, this collection of essays reads like a bunch of laypeople mouthing off about things they know very little about. Disappointing, compared to past Edge question responses.
