

HOW TO FIGHT PRESIDENTS: DEFENDING YOURSELF AGAINST THE BADASSES WHO RAN THIS COUNTRY

Make no mistake: Our founding fathers were more bandanas-and-muscles than powdered-wigs-and-tea. As a prisoner of war, Andrew Jackson walked several miles barefoot across state lines while suffering from smallpox and a serious head wound received when he refused to...

Peek Inside the Book

Martin Van Buren was a shitty guy. Not just because he was a bad president, and not just because he was pro-slavery. Van Buren was shitty in a very general sort of way. And with all that that implies. Daniel O'Brien, How to Fight Presidents: Defending Yourself Against the Badasses Who Ran This Country //

Teddy Roosevelt had handpicked Taft as his successor, and when Teddy Roosevelt tells you to do something, you goddamn do it or risk having him punch you in the butt so hard your poop stays inside you forever out of fear of possibly running into Roosevelt. ## Reader's Opinions

I went into this one knowing it's irreverent with random historical facts thrown in. It was sexist, assuming the reader is a guy (which royally pissed me off) and everything negative meant taking on effeminate characteristics. And of those presidents where I've read about or studied them, the facts (real, not the
